Pendant la période de l'Avent, la cité rhénane dégage une atmosphère très particulière. Au cœur du centre-ville, niché dans la vieille ville historique aux décorations de l'Avent, est implanté l'idyllique marché de Noël sur la Barfüsserplatz et la Münsterplatz. Sur cette dernière se trouve un magnifique arbre de Noël orné par le célèbre décorateur Johann Wanner. A la Claraplatz, la buvette d'alpage invite de nouveau cette année à une agréable soirée fondue.

Plus de 160 commerçants et artisans d'art exposent leurs objets dans de petits chalets rustiques en bois. Tous ceux qui cherchent encore des idées de cadeaux peuvent trouver l'inspiration parmi tous les produits proposés dans une atmosphère féérique. ## Amiens, France

A peaceful haven of canals and floating gardens that display one of the most beautiful and largest Gothic cathedrals in France, Amiens is also a place to take an extraordinary journey in the footsteps of Jules Verne.

Divided by the Somme River, the city also is well known for its medieval belfry. Shops and cafes line the old Quartier St.-Leu's narrow streets as floating market gardens ("hortillonnages") dot the city's canals.

Ideally located in the heart of the Paris-London-Brussels triangle, Amiens has been ranked as the fourth-greenest city in France and is the only French city to have three UNESCO heritage sites, including its imposing cathedral and stunning architecture.

The city was a source of inspiration for Jules Verne when he settled there in 1871. The famous author left his mark on the city and his influence is visible in many corners of its streets.

Amiens is home to an international garden festival around the famous floating Hortillonnages that has been voted the most beautiful City Park in Europe. The Hortillonnages, a 740-acre green paradise in the heart of the city, can be explored on foot, by bike, in a row boat, kayak or even on a paddleboard.

"Don't miss the must-see Musée de Picardie or hop on a bike and head to Amiens Zoo, a real island of biodiversity where endangered species are protected in the peace of nature," advises EBD.

Leuven, a picturesque city in the heart of Belgium 142

Leuven, Belgium

Leuven, a picturesque city in the heart of Belgium, east of Brussels, is an ideal destination for an exciting all year round city break.

Thanks to its rich and varied offering in heritage, art, culture, science, beer, gastronomy and shopping, this centuries-old university town invites visitors to stroll and discover everything within walking or biking distance. A hip and urban vibe in an historical setting, guarantees to draw visitors into its vibrancy.

Leuven also nabbed first place in the Best Open-Minded Destinations in Europe, a ranking of destinations actively working on accessibility, social diversity, solidarity, tolerance and respect.

With car-free shopping streets, street markets offering local products, this is also the land of chocolate and well known for its rich history of breweries dating back to 1366, and includes a number of well-known beer-makers, among them the legendary and world-famous Stella Artois.

On a central square is the 15th-century town hall, guarded by its tall spires. The building is decorated with hundreds of statues of local figures, biblical characters and saints. Opposite, the late Gothic St. Peter's Church houses a "Last Supper" by the Flemish Primitive painter Dieric Bouts. Nearby, Oude Markt is a long square lined with bars and cafes.

CRETE (GREECE)

Crete is ranked 20th in the European Best Destinations ranking, with 1.002 votes in its favour. And it is that Greece is always a yes, in fact, we find two Greek destinations in the top 20: Crete (20th) and Athens (18th).

The largest of the Greek islands is the perfect hedonistic destination: the beauty of its beaches competes with that of the mountains and gorges while life passes quietly in the small fishing villages that dot this pearl bathed by the Aegean Sea.

The history and remnants of the past are present in every corner: the palaces of Knossos and Phaistos, the cathedral of Agios Minas, the fortress of Heraklion...

Don't forget to immerse yourself in nature at the Balos Lagoon and Gramvousa Island, Lake Kournas, Spinalonga Island, the Cave of Zeus and of course, on its beautiful beaches.

GRAZ (AUSTRIA)

VIENNA (AUSTRIA)

Vienna obtains 4.978 votes that place it in the 17th place. It is impossible not to fall in love with the charm of Vienna. The capital of Austria, one of the cities with the best quality of life in the world, is love at first sight. A crush that is confirmed when you walk through its streets, visit its palaces, enjoy the opera and visit its museums.

It is also a very dynamic city, full of non-conformist architects, bohemian foodies and a new breed of creative citizens who have changed the rules of the game. Of course, it is still religious to watch the hours pass in its cafeterias, designated Intangible Cultural Heritage by UNESCO.

CLONAKILTY (IRELAND)

Clonakilty, in the south of Ireland, comes in at number 16 with 5.020 votes.

Located in Clonakilty Bay in County Cork, this Irish city is full of color: in its streets, in its shops, on the balconies of houses... In addition, it has been awarded by the European Commission for its commitment to the sustainable tourism, both in terms of its gastronomy and the experiences it offers.

AMIENS (FRANCE)

The most romantic city in France? Probably. Amiens reaches third place on the podium with its 58.114 votes.

Jules Verne settled in Amiens in 1871, making it one of his sources of inspiration. You can tour the city on foot or by boat through its beautiful canals. The picturesque Saint-Lieu district has many cafes and terraces with views of the imposing cathedral.

Amiens is also home to a curious International Garden Festival which takes place in Hortillonages, voted the most beautiful urban park in Europe.

MARBELLA (SPAIN)

Marbella, the only Spanish representative on the list, obtains no less than 61.041 votes and proudly wears the title of "Best European Destinations".

Oh, the south... Oh, Andalusia... Oh, Malaga... You are our weakness! Marbella is the preferred destination for travelers looking for relaxation, incredible hotels and restaurants, craft shops, local and top quality products, outdoor activities... It has it all!

Marbella not only attracts travelers in love with the sun and its beaches, but also digital nomads, athletes, foodies, as well as companies and investors.

Strolling through Puerto Banus, tasting Michelin-starred dishes, going out for tapas, touring the historic center... Marbella, here we come!

The best European destinations to travel to in 2022
(and one is in Spain)

More than half a million travelers from 182 countries have voted for the Best European Destinations 2022 on the European Best Destinations portal among more than 400 places. The capital of Slovenia occupies the first place on the list, but do you want to know what the others are? A clue: Spain has its representation and holds the second position.

1. Ljubljana

The green capital of Slovenia has things that are new to most of us: the canals, bicycles, but also of Prague. For its elegant architecture on the banks of the Ljubljanica River. There are no shortage of comparisons with the Austrian Gos and Salzburg, or, due to its youthful atmosphere, with any other European university city. Be that as it may, this 670,000 capital is a little gem where you can live a quiet life, with a pedestrianized historic center, castles, medieval churches, beautiful bridges, secluded squares and, above all, alleys where cafes, restaurants and boutiques are hidden, where to go hand in hand with the song of the birds in the background.
